Response to Amendment

1. This Office Action is in response to Amendment filed on 11/27/2006.
2. Claims 1-7, 9, 11-18, 23-25 are pending and examined. Claims 8, 10, 19-22 have been cancelled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 11-12, 14-17, 24-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over P.G. Pub. No. 2003/0043680 to Akiba et al. (Akiba).

Regarding claims 11-12, Akiba discloses, in FIG. 13, a semiconductor memory device having address input circuit with an output line (e.g. element 65 having input A0 and output AB0), said address input circuit comprising a control circuitry (comprising either transistors 66-68; 67-68; 70-71, 67-68; or 70-71); and an intervention circuit (transistor 69) instantiated within the control circuitry, adapted to hold the output line at a desired state while control circuitry preceding the intervention circuit is powered down with a power switch (66) having a control signal input (input signal PD), wherein the power switch is not located within the control circuitry (e.g. transistor 66 is not within transistors 70-71).

Akiba does not disclose the element 65 is a word line driver, but address input circuit.

Art Unit: 2824

However, it would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to use the address input circuit disclosed in Akiba as a word line driver since it has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structure limitations. Ex. Parte Masham, F.2d USPQ F.2d 1647 (1987).

Regarding claims 14-17, 24-25, Akiba also discloses that the intervention circuit is a transistor; the transistor 69 is between the driver transistor pair 67-68 and 70-71; transistor 69 is between output line AB0 and driver 66-68; signal PD controls both driver 66-68 and transistor 69; driver 66-68 is substantially equivalent to a pre-driver circuit; PD signal can also replaced as sleep mode signal.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-7, 9, 23 are allowed.
6. Claims 13 and 18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The prior art made of record and considered pertinent to the applicant's disclosure does not teach or suggest the claimed invention having the following limitations, in combination with the remaining claimed limitations:

- As in claim 13: wherein the intervention circuit comprises a resistor; or

Art Unit: 2824

- As in claim 18: wherein the intervention circuit is coupled to a first assertion signal source, and second assertion signal source is coupled to the driver circuitry.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed 11/27/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive because the NOR gate circuit disclosed in paragraph [0086] of Akiba is equivalent to the row periphery circuitry segment 100 shown in FIG. 1a or word line circuitry segment 300 shown in FIG. 3 of the present invention. Examiner has not cited the whole NOR gate circuit of Akiba as the control circuit, but only a few transistors within (see above rejection).

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
